Dear Readers,

We would like to thank all of you for the tremendous support given to us in assembling PR. It has proven to be a major undertaking that is working because of your article contributions, faith in our advertising capabilities, mental reassurance, and the basic goal, that you are picking it up to read. Again we stress that we are here to work for you and with you. Let us know what you think. What subjects would you like to see featured? Are we getting up to date information on the groups and organizations you participate in? Do you know of upcoming events that more of the community can join in? Call or write and let us help you spread the word.

At your service,

Larry and Ed

L.A.D.S. REPLACES CHUCK BARRIS FOR GONG SHOW

STIXX was the location, March 9th the date, when L.A.D.S. set the stage for an all new Gong Show. The judging panel took their places and emcee Charlie brought forth the contestants. Pussy LeHoot began with a Diana Ross medley in tribute to the late Miss WooWoo. Craig took it all off in a seductive bump and grind. Bobby, as Cher, did "The Way of Love." Pussy came back with "I Never Promised You a Rose Garden" and "Baby, I'm Yours." Charlie's version of "At the Hop" broke into a dance frenzy as the audience took over the stage. Steve the "Trick Taylor" took a gonging. Jodi didn't have the chance to finish "Private Dancer." Bobby took big scores as Boy George. Contestants rose and contestants fell as the day progressed. The entire cast prematurely performed their closing number, "What I Did for Love" and the scores were tabulated. First Place went to Bobby, Second Place to Craig, and Char picked up Third.

In the course of the show, $64 were collected for the purchase of T.T.D.s, telecommunications type for the deaf. L.A.D.S. officers put it best:

THANKS FOR THE VICTORIES
WE LOVE YOU ALL SO MUCH
WE ALSO LOVE TO TOUCH
L.A.D.S. FOR THE FUN OF IT
WE'LL DO OUR VERY BEST
YOU'LL ALL DO THE REST
SO THANK YOU — SO MUCH

Put on your best Easter Bonnet and join L.A.D.S. on March 30th at the Grand Camel Club for their parade at 1:00 p.m.

A NEW LOOK FOR THE GRAND CAMEL CLUB

For those of you who haven't been into the Grand Camel Club lately, you're in for a pleasant surprise. Pat Oliva's contemporary re-decorating has shaken any traces of "Shakey's" (the original occupant of the building).

This forerunner in gay Phoenix expansion to the west is a full service establishment in the entertainment world. If your mood calls for a pleasant atmosphere for evening cocktails, tasty dining from chef Gregory's kitchen, V.I.P. Night shows of female impersonation (the first Wednesday of the month), Wet Jockey Shorts & T-Shirts, Cash Grabs, dancing, pool, or a happy place to make some nice new friends, you're in the right spot if you've come to 5105 N. 43rd Avenue (just north of Camelback), home of the Grand Camel Club.

L.A.D.S. Thanks Community For Monte Carlo Night Success

PHOENIX — "Our recent Monte Carlo night drew turnaway crowds," says a spokesman for Los Amigos del Sol (L.A.D.S.). "The success of this event—our sixth annual—was due in no small part to the generous participation of the many members of the community who donated prizes. We thank them."

Among the donors: Buddy's Flowers of Mesa, The Sisteks, Maintain All, Phoenix Hilton, Continental Hair Fashions, Hair at La Posada, Dr. W. R. Sterling, Salon Copenhagen, BJ's of San Diego, Bob Branch Florist, Camelback Inn, Grand Camel.

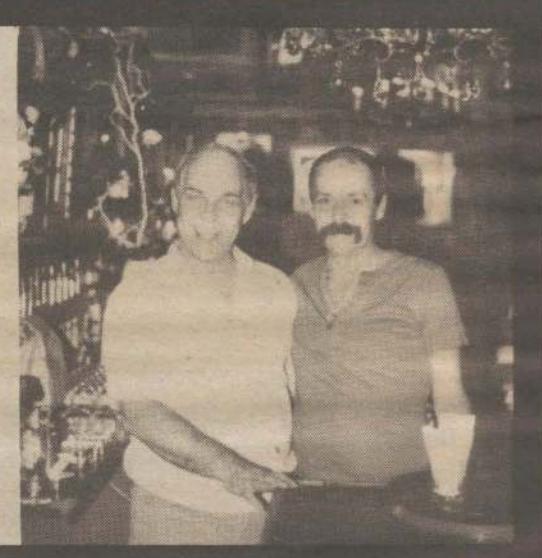

Also, AAMCO Transmission (Cave Creek Road), Turf Soaring School, Raggedy Ann and Andy's, First Travel, R. Hegyi, Thunderbird Lanes, Olive Branch Florists, Gallery 3, Stage I Salon, Incognito, Tommy & Clyde's, the sponsors of the Sweetheart Ball, Bath House, Rawhide, Shamoo's, Trax, New Moon, Tuff Stuff, Little Jim's 307, Charlie's, Cruisin' Central and Cattlemen's Exchange.

"In addition, we're most grateful for the assistance of the Sons of Apollos (SOA), whose members oversaw parking and security for the event."

L.A.D.S. is a men's and women's social club which recently celebrated its ninth anniversary. Its next regular monthly meeting is scheduled for 1 p.m., April 13, at Farrah's. Guests are welcome.

SUNDAY MADNESS

You've read the Sunday Funnies, worshipped as you choose, had brunch, and phoned Mom, but your day is not complete until you've spent 3:00 to 6:00 pm at Cattlemen's Exchange for Sunday Madness. Cissy and Lucy are on hand to sass your afternoon away. This is a bi-weekly event in which our generous hosts contribute their time and tips to different charitable organizations. So once a fortnight get off your recliner and get down to 138 West Camelback to watch Madness take its toll!

A.I.D.S. FUNDRAISER AT VEGAS WORLD

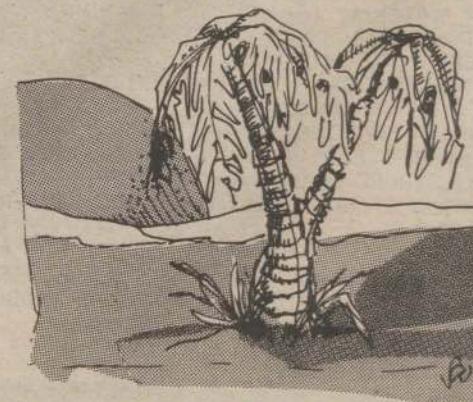

Have you ever been to Vegas World? You must wonder how legitimate "gambling" can go on outside Nevada and Atlantic City. Sunday, April 7th from 8:00 pm to 1:00 am, is your chance to find out and all for a good cause. That evening, upon your donation at the door, you will receive "chips" with which you may choose to play at the full spectrum of gaming tables within. At the end of the evening, an auction will be held to give you chance to "cash in." Auction prizes will depend on what merchants donate to this cause between now and then. All proceeds from the casino and the door shall be turned over to the Arizona A.I.D.S. Fund.

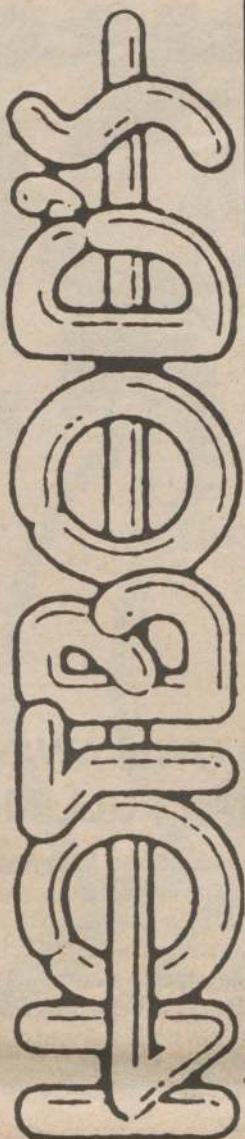

Where you find casinos, you find SHOWTIME, and this show will feature such favorites as Tish Tanner, Joanne, Lady Cassandra, Deja Vu, and Pussy LeHoot. Be there or be Square!

WE ARE DOING IT AGAIN, PHOENIX!

LITTLE JIM's 307
— Happy Anniversay —

Twas the night of St. Patty's and outside the bar,
 the boys put on make up
 by domelite in car.

Get the picture? Boys will be girls, but Queens will be Stars, and these Stars shone bright for Little Jim's 307 Anniversary Party on March 17—which happens to coincide with St. Patrick's Day. Smokey Lee played Mistress of Ceremonies for lady Cassandra... Private Dancer; Pussy LeHoot—who's "Got it Bad"; Ebony... Queen of the House; Miss White as Miss WooWoo as Diana Ross; and Ginger Peaches and and and and Roxanne, you stole my heart doing "No Night So Long." Keith made more than one set of false nipples hard with his "Delerious" strip. Many of this evenings entertainers will be on hand April 1st (A.M., as in "If ya touch my Cheerios I'll scratch your eyes out.") for Monday Morning Madness.

BLOWN AWAY BY TRAX FULL MOON

On Friday, March 8, the March Wind blew through the McDowell district directing pleasure seekers to TRAX Full Moon Party. Pleasure is what they found dancin' and socializin' into the afterhours. Revelers became intimate with the extensive decorations of kites and flowing "plastique." The next time that Full Moon is on the rise and your body starts to quiver, take it down to TRAX and let yourself go wild.

FROM THE MOUTH OF THE DRAGON

Wasn't the first edition of Previews and Reviews just great, and with so many pictures of Gary Mangum, too. I'm almost certain I've seen the "little boy" picture on "child find." Perhaps he was stolen as a little boy, forced to work in a candy factory, until it went out of business; and hidden in a rather large dress, drag as it were, hence Tish Tanner. Such a "devine" (sic) little boy picture.

Speaking of Gary, it seems he has a "thing" for couples, married, that is. He has that "lust in the dust" gleam in his eyes for my bosses Ed and Larry, not to mention Tommy and David, and Richard and Ramon. I certainly hope it's only a phase for Gary, and that it will soon pass. Until so, look out couples!!

Steve H. moved to the Camelback Towers as he wanted a room with a view. Bet he didn't have a room with a view when he was a guest of the city.

Misty, daughter mine, doubt not your mother, as I've always had your best interests at heart. Perhaps, pet, we should channell our efforts in finding you a "Prince Consort." However, darling, with the traffic in and out of your bedroom, we best find someone out of town. Like Guam. Just remember to have him walk "3" steps behind as you are the Queen.

I don't know what John G. has been doing, but he certainly looks great. Best I've seen him look since George. I just may vomit.

Richard is sporting a lovely black eye. No, darlings, Ramon didn't do it. Richard ran into a door. I've heard that story before!!

Has Johnny Angel found true love with Mark, or is his name Doug, or will yet another cousin appear??

Should Penelope give back her Xmas dresses to the giver, or should she just tell him to piss off?? When in doubt, Miss. P., piss off is best.

Saw the "widow" Taz at the 307. Said "widow" has lost weight and is sporting a new haircut. Look out Serena!!

It really is nice to be back in print. To my Loyal Legion of Fans, I remain,

FROM THE
ACCOUNTANT'S DESK

More individuals are receiving Federal income tax refunds but still owing Arizona income tax. If you find yourself in this position, now's the time to do something for 1985. Effective January 1, 1985, the 10% withholding option is eliminated for taxpayers earning $15,000 or more per year in wages, bonuses, overtime and other compensation. Withholding at the rate of 15% or 20% of the federal withholding amount is now required for these taxpayers. If you are paid the following wages or more, I recommend you consider the 15% or 20% rate:

$7.21/hour, $288.46/week, $576.92/2-weeks, $625/half month, $1,250/month.

PR PERSONAL PROFILE

It's a big city out there!

It's a big city inhabited with many varied peoples, all living their chosen lifestyles. It's a big city with a wonderful sub-community—our gay community—existing in the midst of the hustle and bustle.

Our community weaves in and out of all the other facets of this big city.

The gay community is made up of thousands just like you and I. The only difference being some are known by all, others by a few and some not at all. That's the part I hope to remedy with this column.

I plan to bring some unknown faces out of hiding, so to speak, and share a little of their past, present and future with you each issue.

Some of these people will be well known. I will try in those cases to show another side to their life.

It has not been easy trying to make a decision on who would be first. My roommate, Misty McCrae, (yes, she's the Queen—but she'll always be Juanita Nosense to me) hinted strongly I should "profile" her, as she is the "Queen"! Big deal!

I tried unsuccessfully to interview Dragon Lady (the infamous "writing lizard"). She kept taking the "fifth"—and I don't mean amendment either—and passed out shortly after I asked her true age. One would think she had also taken a sleeping pill!

I considered interviewing the publishers of this newspaper, but I know they are both too busy to be interviewed. Besides, I have problems being alone with either one of them, or both for that matter. Besides, I'd probably be accused of brown nosing or something much worse, if Dragon Lady had anything to say on the subject.

I approached several bar owners who said they would tell me anything I wanted to know, but they refused to allow me to publish their names—I guess to protect the innocent.

Of course, every female illusionist in the Valley, from JoAnne to Zemobia, would have gladly surrendered their inner most secrets, life histories, phone numbers and/or addresses in most cases—just for a mention herein.

I was told by the powers that be—namely E.B. and L.K.—to be my own judge, just keep it interesting. That knocked out at least five of the seven people I had left on my list.

I know after this column I will be deluged with perspective PROFILE subjects. I can hardly wait.

Until then, you will see me taking notes in unusual places, talking with strange faces and in general bugging people who probably wish I'd go away.

I plan to hit every realm of our community from drag queens to butch leathermen (Be still my heart!—from bartenders to bar owners—from DJ to dancer. I'll be telling these stories each issue bringing those unknown faces out of hiding and shedding a little light on the familiar ones.

If you have a suggestion—other than to volunteer your time for an interview—drop me a line in care of this paper. As always, I need lots of help.

Keep watching!

Garry R. Mangum

NEXT ISSUE: PROFILE visits with the DIVA herself—after a long nap and rest—DRAGON LADY, Queen of the Poison Pen.

PR BUSINESS REVIEW FIRST TRAVEL

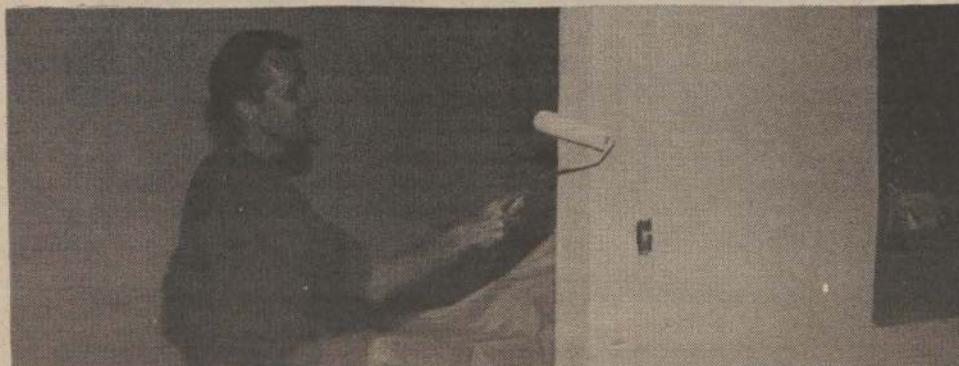

Sam Worthington has been in the travel industry for some five and a half years now and in January 1984 he opened First Travel in its present location at 5150 North 7th Street. The original two rooms have expanded with the business and the offices are now in the final stages of completion at more than triple the original size. Karyl, First Travel's able manager (we know she's able, she trained Sam in the business), has been involved in the industry for a good ten years.

A full service outfit, First Travel can put you on a boat or a plane in a hotel or a tent, for business or for pleasure. About 50% of their clients are gay.

We have all noticed the outrageously low airfares offered in the current price war. In paying 30 days in advance the airlines gain your dollars for working capital. The drawbacks are limited to space availability, cancellation penalties, and limited choice for times. However, they do give you the opportunity to save at least 50%. ($109 to Philadelphia—at the price, it could be worth going there.)

They are now booking reservations for an all gay cruise departing New Orleans to Key West, on to Cozumel, and back to New Orleans. The sailing date is February 15, 1986 and there are only 368 cabins with bookings coming in from all over the U.S., to it's time to get in with your deposit. This voyage is being put together by RSVP Productions of Minneapolis and is geared for men but RSVP is branching out with a women's division later this year. There are a variety of fares offered depending on cabin choice and the prices include everthing but your tips.

Office hours are 9 - 5, Monday through Friday and by appointment. The next time your leaving Phoenix, call First Travel, first.

WELCOME APOLLO'S

The weekend of March 16th and 17th proved to be instant success for Bill Laybourne and Eddie Davis when they held the Grand Opening ceremonies for Apollo's, their new bar, formerly Tommy & Clyde's. Full house crowds took in their share of drink specials, food, prizes.

Desert Overture set up on Saturday to give a very well received performance. What better occasion to strike up the band. (Be sure to catch Desert Overture at the Phoenix Little Theatre on March 23rd.)

The Sons of Apollo were there, at home, and in the course of events, a double bike christening took place. On Sunday, they had a Fun Run, during which, for a small donation, the rest of Apollo's customers had a chance to join the club as the pack roared off for a tour through the hills into Paradise Valley (very well organized, insured, and coordinated for safety).

Sunday evening, as time forced our boys to wind up the weekend, a drawing was held for Grand Prize. Art Stuart was the lucky recipient of a new stereo. Following the drawing, the party soared to a final high and one was fortunate (or not) to get out with one's shorts intact.

If you liked Tommy & Clyde's, you'll love Apollo's... more, more, more!

CONNECTION

How about a little green goo? How about a lot of green goo? How about a limited edition T-Shirt? How about wall to wall men dancing and doing what men do? How about if I knock off with the "How About's" and tell ya a good time was had by all. (What's Green Goo? I'm not sure but as I held the shot glass in one hand, I made sure I kept my lit cigarette in my opposite hand on the opposite side of my body.

PHOENIX POWER & SUPPLY

The current reconstruction of the bar was well camouflaged to please St. Patrick. We caught a sneak preview of things to come in the unveiling of their "Plasma Sculpture" ... a large crystal ball looking device, which creates an electric storm within and emits a healthy dose of electric current when touched. It truly defies written description, go see for yourself.

RAMROD

Larry and his crew made up the faces of all willing patrons that came through their doors in THE color of the day. For those of you that did not attend but are still trying to figure out where the green glitter on your pillow came from, don't be surprised to find that the trail winds back to 395 North Black Canyon Highway.

STIXX

STIXX celebrated St. Patty's Day with a benefit show to raise funds for the purchase of TDD's (telecommunications devices for the deaf). On hand and on stage for the event were Pussy LeHoot, Deja Vu, Cindy Miller, Catte Austin, and an outstanding mime couple. Elizabeth C. won the drawing for a previously purchased TDD. Enough donations were raised that night ($165) for the purchase of another unit. A big round of applause for STIXX' Donna and her continuing efforts to assist our hearing impaired brothers and sisters.

DR. GREEN JEANS PLANT CARE

Description:

Spathiphyllum is an evergreen plant grown for foliage as well as flowers. Dark green feather shaped leaves have indented veins and slightly rippled edges. Blooms on long thin stems consist of a Spatha and a Spadix. They are bright white and lily-like (thus the Peace Lily). Blooms will last for months. They can be cut and will last in water for a long time.

Care:

Light Spats will thrive in moderate low light to filtered high light, but will only bloom in medium light or bright light.

Watering:

Spats like to be on the damp side. Now, this does not mean soggy, just avoid letting them dry out completely. Underwatering will result in browning of leaf edges.

Feeding:

Be careful not to over fertilize; use $\frac{1}{2}$ doses and never use fertilizer on dry roots. Pre-soak or use the feeding method discussed in PR Issue #1.

Spats range in size from small table plants to 4' tall floor plants. The leaves can be up to 18" long. This makes the Spathiphyllum a very dramatic addition to almost any setting. It is very easy to keep looking good as long as you keep it from drying out and, remember, this plant's ability to exist in low light situations. There are not very many plants this can be said about. A real good trick is to keep two Spats and rotate them — keep one in bright light until it blooms, then exchange it for one in a dark area. This way you can obtain blooms on both plants.

ALISON MOYET

“ALF”

(Columbia; Produced by Tony Swain and Steve Jolley)

Not surprisingly, Alison Moyet's solo debut is reminiscent of her previous work with Yazoo. Nor is it unusual that she chooses to take a shot at the customary “he done me wrong” theme so prevalent here.

What is surprising is that the LP is both consistent and consistently exciting. Moyet's muscular contralto breathes life into some rather tired themes, insinuating a desperation beyond the lyrics.

“Invisible” might easily have sunk into Vegas-y schmaltz as handled by another vocalist. Moyet's angry reading lifts the ballad from its dirge-like possibilities, softening her mad-as-hell vocal with admirable restraint.

The sexual innuendo of “Love Resurrection” builds slowly, climaxing in a rocking vocal chorus behind Moyet's woeful wailing. The intimation of the lyric is masked in Moyet's androgynous style, and becomes apparent upon a second listen.

Moyet leans heavily on this voal androgyny. She keeps us guessing in what is overall a very polished and exciting solo effort.

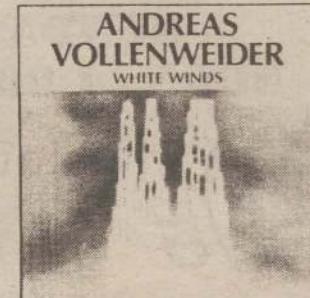

HAZELL DEAN

“HEART FIRST”

(Proto Export; Produced by Pete Waterman)

DAVID FEASTER'S
TOP TEN
(spins at TRAX)

1. “Boy” — Book of Love
2. “Zoo Look” — Jean Michel Jarre
3. “Open Mind” — Jean Luc Ponty
4. “Putting The Night on Hold” — Lauren Grey
5. “Go For It” — Kim Wilde
6. “I Want You” — Rofo
7. “Smalltown Boy” — Bronski Beat
8. “That's Love, That It Is” — Blancmange
9. “Love Resurrection” — Alison Moyet
10. “Vicious Games” — Yello

ANDREAS VOLLENWEIDER “WHITE WINDS”

(Columbia; Produced by Andreas Vollenweider)

More entertaining than the beautiful music of “White Winds” is the notion that a classical harpist can assemble a collection of sounds which does not repeat the mood or feel of his two preceding LPs.

This is less a collection of songs than a series of esoteric reflections on nature and the elements. “White Winds” gracefully bestows a cacophony of strings and elemental effects.

Sounds of water, wind and rain are portrayed by Vollenweider's harps, drenching us in a journey through these melodic winds. A myriad of instruments voice the murmur of day and night, interwoven with prevalent strings.

A stirring, relaxed exercise bound with the simple beauty of electric and acoustic harps, violin and cello.

JENNY BURTON

“JENNY BURTON”

(Atlantic;
Produced by Eddie O'Loughlin and Lou Deviase)

Wholesale borrowings from seemingly every Arthur Baker production of last year make this LP sound altogether too familiar.

Here, as in Baker's work, O'Loughlin and Debiase are the stars. Another of those “producer albums,” pitting the vocalist against the featured drum machine and studio effects.

Burton occasionally manages to overcome the ample production. She shouts her way to the fore in the John-Robie “Load It Up” and efficiently slices through the mix of “Bad Habits,” the single.

“Habits” lifts the melody line and synth-hook of Barbara Mason's “Another Man” of last year, and incorporates a thudding bass line. Similarities aside, this is the best offering here.

Though the singer is all but vacuous in a myriad of musical mechanics, it is difficult to deny Miss Burton's vocal abilities. But lost she is here, in a cloud of mostly forgettable studio exercises.

This package succeeds more as a heap of nice techno-dance numbers than a showcase for Dean's talents as a vocalist. Yet her vocal attack shines through in a collection geared toward her considerable cult following.

THE TUBES

"LOVE BOMB"

(Capitol; Produced by Todd Rundgren)

The clown princes of rock are at it again, offering their usual mainstream pop-rock. Alongside we are offered the by-now-customary antics and lyrical twists of the AZ-based septet.

The sound is a bit harder-edged this time out, via Rundgren's production. This shrewd collaboration sustains the band's melodic pop sound, and expands beyond it with Rundgren's influence.

Aside the sore-thumb balladry of "Come As You Are," we are presented with classic Tubes pageant. Where else would one find a medley of "Wooly Bully/Theme From A Summer Place?"

12" SINGLES

PAUL PARKER

"WITHOUT YOUR LOVE"

(Megatone)

A re-make of a re-make of a re-make, this time with lyrics. Faithful to the original by Cut Glass in its straight-forward delivery. Parker vocalizes with his usual aplomb.

PAMALA STANLEY

"IF LOOKS COULD KILL"

(Atlantic)

Producers Liggett and Barbosa abandon their trademark "Shannon Sound" for this romp through naughty glances. Stanley's vocal is not up to par with her past work.

EXPOSE

"POINT OF NO RETURN"

(Arista)

Yet another record in the Shannon/beat box vein. This one sports a driving rhythm and pleasantly toccata bridge. A remix of '84's underground hit.

THE NAILS

"88 LINES ABOUT 44 WOMEN"

(RCA)

Tough, salty rap concerning less-than-virtuous ladies. Sample lyric: "Tanya Turkish like to fuck / While wearing leather biker boots / Brenda's strange obsession was / For certain vegetables and fruit." Humor our late-night sleaze.

EVELYN THOMAS

"HEARTLESS"

(Vanguard)

Economical high energy pop for the disco crowd. Songstress Thomas offers spirited vocals over a tried-and-true cha-cha beat.

MUSIC NOTES

Stateside release of Nina Hagen's new LP is held up as the artist prepares a promotional video for the project. The album takes a poke at classic opera, and includes variations on Bizet's "Carmen." As Malcolm McLaren rolls over in his sleep.....

.....Large women in the news: Jennifer Holliday will replace Aretha Franklin as Mahalia Jackson in the off-Broadway run of "Sing, Mahalia, Sing".....

.....Former Two Tons the Weather Girls are laying tracks for a new album to be released through Charles Koppelman's Entertainment Co.....

.....St. Martin's Press announces an upcoming autobiography by Mary Wilson. Entitled, "Dream Girl: My Life as a Supreme," the book chronicles the ups and downs of ooh-ooing behind What's-Her-Name.....

.....Motorhead now holds the auspicious title of "Loudest Rock Band," having copped the distinction from former ear-splitters The Who. A recent Motorhead concert in lovely Cleveland found the dB's so intense as to cause portions of the hall's ceiling to crumble. Who needs album sales with honours such as these?.....

.....Prince previewed his new LP for Warner Bros. execs this past week. Quipped one source, "It's very different. Fabulous!" The album, tentatively titled "Around The World In A Day," is scheduled for a late April release.....

.....Coming soon: new LPs by Robert Plant, George Strait, Michael Franks, Data, The Whites, and The Pointer Sisters. More Greatest Hits packages by Kenny Rogers, Barbara Mandrell, Terri Gibbs, Tina Turner, and Pat Travers.

DISCO DEJA-VU

THE MICHAEL ZAGER BAND

"LET'S ALL CHANT"

Zager set a dance-floor standard with this 1978 camp classic. Echoes of "OO-wah OO-wah!" are still heard from the club underground, as dancers chant along with this and seemingly every other disco number.

Possibly the only disco record of its era to incorporate a piccolo solo into the inanities of dance-floor howling.

Ah-ah, ey-ey... Ah-ah, ey-ey... OO-wah OO-wah!

ARIZONA GAY RODEO ASSOCIATION

A full slate of events is reported by AGRA (The Arizona Gay Rodeo Association). A number of the group's activities, including an upcoming fund raiser and party at Charlie's, are designed for participation of the entire community. Anyone desiring to be more closely involved in the organization as an active member is extended a hardy welcome to attend the general membership meeting which is scheduled for 5:00 at Charlie's on Sundays.

All are invited to join in the fun, and also help support AGRA by taking part in the Box Social on March 27 at Charlie's starting at 6:30; funds will be generated for the association by auctioning off donated box lunches. The sale will feature the talents of Lucy, Ebony and Cissy Goldberg as auctioneers.

Following the Box Social, at 8:00, AGRA presents a Burbank or Bust Party to celebrate the departure for the Golden State Gay Rodeo Association's first Rodeo, to be held in Burbank, California on March 29, 30 and 31. Performances by Charlie's Country Cloggers, along with square dancers from AGRA, will highlight the festivities.

Information concerning the Arizona Gay Rodeo Association or membership procedures is available at Charlie's or from any AGRA member.

A.G.R.A. CLEANS HOUSE

The Arizona Gay Rodeo Association held a yard sale on March 9 and 10, bringing in over $300 to help support their upcoming events. From hoop skirts to toaster ovens, merchandise was boxed, bagged, tied up and dragged off into the sunset as one man's garbage became another man's treasure. Many thanks to contributors and purchasers and when you get around to your spring house cleaning, hang on to your goodies for future sales.

LEATHERWARE
by Ron and Eddie(602) 254-9651
1714 East McDowell Rd.
Phoenix, ArizonaLEATHERNOTES*The Care and Feeding of Leather

Leather is a natural material. Just like our own skin, the hide of other animals, cows, bulls, sheep, goats, horses, pigs or snakes, is grown. Not being a manufactured product, leather is irregular in texture and grain. Just as our own skin requires special care and feeding daily so our leather clothing and toys require as much care when used frequently. All leathers need special care in order to preserve the qualities of aroma, softness, durability, and pliability.

To insure the qualities in your leather are preserved, first, it must be kept clean, just like your own skin. Certain steps should be followed in the process of cleaning leather. Heavy dirt or spots should be gently removed with a wet cloth or brush. Then a mild detergent (Ivory dish soap, Woolite) can be sparingly applied to a wet cloth to remove sweat stains, grease spots, beer, or champagne spills. Thoroughly dry the washed area. Do not wear the leather damp. Wet leather stretches and the treated area, especially knees and crotch, will lose their shape. Some lightweight leather items such as Cabretta or half-ounce cowhide pouches, tank tops, t-shirts or shorts can be cleaned by placing them in the washing machine using the gentle cycle and a small amount of gentle detergent. Do not allow the cycle to finish, spin dry will alter the shape of your garment. After the rinse, gently work any excess water from the leather and either lay it out flat on a towel or hang from a plastic hanger. This process can be used occasionally on lightweight leathers but heavier items should be professionally cleaned. Such thorough cleaning should only be done when absolutely needed. Petroleum based products are used in the dry cleaning process and frequent use can damage your leather.

After any cleaning process, leather should be generously fed. Detergents and dry cleaning fluids remove most of the natural oils and lanolins from the leather and these must be replaced in order to preserve the appearance and flexibility of the garment. Just as our own skin needs cleaning and rejuvenation, your leather will maintain a newer, youthful look if properly cared for.

Several products are available for feeding your leather. Saddle soaps, mink oil, neatsfoot oil, carnauba cream and atom waxes. Each product is slightly different and each leather owner has their preferences. All are designed to restore aroma, softness and pliability as well as color by preventing aging, brittleness due to salt. These products also provide a degree of waterproofing as well as soil resistance to leathers. Older leathers may be partially restored by thorough cleaning, followed by the generous application of dye and oil, wipe away excess and apply leather sealer, then a final coat of saddle soap or conditioner for aged leather. Finally, an atom wax may be applied to add shine. Careful with waxes, though. Most of them have a tendency to seal the leather fibres and prevent the leather from breathing properly. Leather clothing that has stretched, common in the knee area of pants and chaps, elbows of shirts and under the arm in vests, can be partially returned to a newer look by slightly misting the under or suede side of the hide and allowing to dry. As the water evaporates, it shrinks the leather. When working with dry as well as stretched areas, apply a thin coat of oil to the outside or finished side of the skin. Lay a towel over the area and with a warm iron, press the area until the oil has visually soaked into the skin. Watch that iron, especially on thinner leathers, it won't take much to burn or bubble the leather.

After your leathers are clean, conditioned and well oiled, they should be hung on cuff (pant) hangers, or wooden suit hangers or laid out on plastic protectors to prevent the oil from getting on other clothing. After a short time, the oil will absorb deeply into the leather. When you put them on the next time, take a dry cloth and remove any excess oil. When using hangers on pants or chaps, fold the item differently each time to prevent creases or folds. Rolling pants and chaps when packing leather in suitcases will prevent creases also. Waist bands or belts of pants or chaps should never be sharply folded — insert other clothing inside folded leather.

Obviously, we haven't covered everything, for specific suggestions, feel free to contact us at Tuff Stuff. Keep your leather clean and protected. There is nothing like "well-cared-for" leather on a "well-cared-for" body. Now, that sounds like a good lead-in for our next article. How to buy, what to buy.

Now a short list of products that we have found that seem to maintain high quality in leather care: Fiebing's Saddle Soap, liquid or paste; Fiebing's Saddle Oil with silicone-lanolin; Smiling Mink Leather Waterproofer; English Saddle Soap by Zoes; Double Brand Leatherizer; Fiebing's Leather Balm and Atom Wax.

Stay away from most Lexol products, Dr. Johnson Leather Balm and Crisco. All three are very rough on your leather. Next time — and Arizona — the best is yet to come.

Ron and Eddie

FILL IN -----

If you don't know how to work a Fill-In — start with the key number and select numbers from the list and work them in to the pattern (there is only one (1) way this puzzle works). Once you get started, it is fairly easy. All you need is a pencil and stick-to-it-iveness. Good luck and have fun.

GAY TRIVIA

1. Who is Arthur Gelien?
2. If you are exclusively gay, what Kinsey rating number are you?
3. What First Lady's father had an affair with Cole Porter?
4. Who is the most reknowned female "male-impersonator"?
5. How many gay men does it take to replace a light bulb?

This is not a test—it's a new game developed by three Washington D.C. individuals which is fast becoming the "in" thing at gay—and straight as well—get togethers.

This game of facts and fancy covers a wide range of subjects for and about gay men and women. Gay Trivia was compiled and written by John A. Theis and Joan F. Thompson. The game is compatible with other Trivia games and can be used in conjunction with questions from these games or without.

Included with the game are a score pad, dice, pencils and 1800 questions.

The questions cover politics, romance, history, fads, entertainment places—all researched and verified by the developers of the game.

The game is currently available at Windfall Publications, 5150 North 7th Street (formerly R. Hegyi's) or by calling 266-6822.

Oh, and the answers to those opening questions: 1) Tab Hunter; 2) 6; 3) Francis Bouvier, Jacqueline Kennedy's father; 4) Lily Tomlin; 5) Four, one to screw it in and three to sit back and remark how fabulous!
